

CLASSES

■ Level I:

This class covers the foundations of alignment and the balance between strength and flexibility. Basic standing and seated postures, twists, forward bends, shoulder stand, relaxation and breath awareness. It is recommended that you repeat Level I several times.

■ Level II:

For continuing students with one year of recent Yoga study. More emphasis on endurance, alignment, and the introduction of head stand and backbends.

■ Level III:

For experienced students who are familiar with standing, seated, inversions, and backbends. We will introduce Pranayama (the study of breath) in this class.

■ Restorative:

A gentle class that addresses: physical and emotional fatigue of injury or illness and treatment and recovery; relaxation and breathing techniques are part of every class.

■ Neck & Shoulders*:

Yoga postures that address: common issues with necks and shoulders. Students under the care of a physician should verify their attendance in this class with their care giver.

■ Low Back, Hips, and Knees

Yoga postures that address: common issues with Low Back, Hips, and Knees. Students under the care of a physician should verify their attendance in this class with their care giver.

* Attendance in either of these two classes requires prior permission of the teacher. You may be required to attend Restoratives for one or more sessions before joining this class.

NORTHERN LIGHTS YOGA

Yoga is an ancient practice created to nourish the physical body, the mind, and the spirit. It is a powerful tool for dealing with physical tension and emotional stress in our modern world. The system of Yoga postures, breath awareness, and relaxation teaches the individual to be a wise caretaker of one's closest personal environment. Yoga respects all ages, states of health and belief systems.

Judy Landecker and Charles Udell are certified Iyengar Yoga teachers who have practiced and taught Yoga for more than 75 years total. They are dedicated to the practice and teaching of Yoga in the tradition of Sri B.K.S. Iyengar.

Lisa Swanson – a long time student at Northern Lights Yoga has recently and successfully completed her assessment at the Introductory II Level in Iyengar Yoga.
