

CLASSES

■ Level I:

This class covers the foundations of alignment and the balance between strength and flexibility. Basic standing and seated postures, twists, forward bends, shoulder stand, headstand, relaxation and breath awareness. It is recommended that you repeat Level I several times.

■ Level II:

For continuing students with one year of recent Yoga study. More emphasis on endurance, alignment, and the introduction of balance postures and backbends.

■ Level III:

For experienced students who are familiar with standing, seated, inversions, and backbends. We will introduce Pranayama (the study of breath) in this class.

■ Restorative:

A gentle class that addresses: physical and emotional fatigue of injury or illness and treatment and recovery; relaxation and breathing techniques are part of every class.

■ Neck & Shoulders*:

Yoga postures that address: common issues with necks and shoulders. Students under the care of a physician should verify their attendance in this class with their care giver.

■ Low Back, Hips, and Knees

Yoga postures that address: common issues with Low Back, Hips, and Knees. Students under the care of a physician should verify their attendance in this class with their care giver.

* You may be required to attend Restoratives for one or more sessions before joining either of these 2 classes.

NORTHERN LIGHTS YOGA

Yoga is an ancient practice created to nourish the physical body, the mind, and the spirit. It is a powerful tool for dealing with physical tension and emotional stress in our modern world. The system of Yoga postures, breath awareness, and relaxation teaches the individual to be a wise caretaker of one's closest personal environment. Yoga respects all ages, states of health and belief systems.

Judy Landecker and Charles Udell are Certified Iyengar Yoga Teachers (CIYT) and are both Certified Yoga Therapists (C-IAYT) who have practiced and taught Yoga for more than 80 years total. They are dedicated to the practice and teaching of Yoga in the tradition of Sri B.K.S. Iyengar.

Julie Benson Rosston has taught Hatha yoga for 21 years in Denver and Helena. She discovered her love for Iyengar yoga in Helena at Northern Lights and has been a student for 14 years.
